H. P. CHILDRESS SOUNDED LAST BUGLE CALL IN WAR.

LOST PAPER IN CYCLONE

Jedously Guarded Parole Blown Away by Freak of Wind Which Demolished Childress Home.

Sunday's Kansas City Star contained the following story of Nathaniel Sisson and H. P. Childress, the two Maryville men who blew the last bugle calls of the civil war:

The two buglers, whose shrill notes marked the close of the civil war—one for the Union forces and the other for the confederates—live in Maryville and for years have been good friends, with many a "fighting-them-over" chat.

The bugle that sounded that last charge for the Union forces at Appomattox hangs in the office of Nathaniel Sisson, the man who sounded it to signal that last charge of Custer's division, the charge that was to be stopped suddenly by the appearance of the flag of truce—a soiled towel, this famed flag of truce was; a soiled towel atop a hickory pole.

The bugle that gave forth the notes that marked the close of hostilities for the other side was cast aside by H. P. Childress, the man who for four years had blown it, and in a dozen bloody battles, through the retreat from Gettysburg and on to Richmond, Five Forks and Appomattox, as being a good riddance.

For when that last call was sounded Mr. Childress, who had shared with his comrades for two years the belief that the next battle would be the last decided that his work was done and "lit right out" for home, not even waiting for his parole. Nor did he stop until he got back to Lynchburg.

Strange to relate, Mr. Childress' call was not sounded for nearly two hours after the surrender of Lee to Grant, and in the meantime his command, Lomax's cavalry, under the command of General Penn, had been skirmishing away with the federals out several miles from Appomattox court house, in blissful ignorance that the war was over.

Their first intimation of the surrender came when a Union officer rode out with a white flag and advanced to General Penn with the news. Mr. Childress was standing near by and heard the officer say: "General Lee has surrendered to General Grant and you are ordered to hold your lines in their present positions." Then General Penn ordered Bugler Childress to ride along the skirmish lines with orders to the colonels to cease firing, and, when he returned, he was ordered to blow "assembly," which was the call for the skirmishers to fall back to their regiments.

This done, Mr. Childress wheeled his horse and started back to find the pike to Lynchburg. He had been a soldier for four long years and was weary with war. He had sounded bugle calls at second Bull Run, Winchester, Front Royal, Clear Creek, Fisher's Hill, Mount Jackson, Fort Republic, Harper's Ferry, Gettysburg, Brandy Station, Mine Run, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Wilderness, Spotsylvania Court House, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, Richmond, Five Forks and this last assembly at Appomattox. And during all these four years he never had fired a shot.

So young Childress went home, disregarding the terms of war and other technicalities. On his solitary journey he ran into General Rosser's command. "Hasn't General Rosser surrendered?" he inquired. "Hell, no!" was the answer, "and doesn't intend to."

It was several weeks after that Mr. Childress, now a civilian and busy with civilian pursuits, heard that he ought to go down to Fredericksburg and get his parole. He went in company with a number of neighbor boys and procured the paper which he guarded jealously for years and which finally was blown away in a cyclone that demolished the Childress home, near Maryville, in 1883.

C. H. EATON SAYS GETTYSBURG VETERANS WERE CARED FOR.

Barnard Man Enjoyed Himself and Says Others Have Themselves to Blame if They Did Not.

C. H. Eaton of Barnard was in Maryville today for the express purpose of correcting what he thinks to be an erroneous impression on the part of the people here as to the Gettysburg reunion. He said that he understood that reports had been given here that the veterans were not well sheltered or fed while at Gettysburg, and that conditions there were unhealthful.

"Anyone who did not have a good time there has only himself to blame," he said. "There were enough things to see to keep a man busy a month. It was hot only two days, but even then there was plenty of shade. On Seminary Ridge there were band concerts every day, and I spent several afternoons there in the shade and breeze. As for food, we had everything a person could want—beef cooked in all possible ways, chicken, fish, vegetables and fruit. Of course, we had to stand in line to get it, but after that we could take our plate anywhere we chose. I gained flesh while there."

Mr. Eaton said that Big and Little Round Top were the only parts of the ground which looked natural. Everywhere else trees have been planted, monuments erected and drives built. The two Round Tops, however, looked the same as they did when he was stationed behind them for two days with the ammunition train.

"I did not meet anyone I knew," said Mr. Eaton. "One man said he had fought in the same company with me, but I did not remember him. In the same tent with me were four confederates and two other federals. We spent our time swapping stories, reading and walking over the grounds."

Mr. Eaton did not leave Gettysburg until the last train pulled out on the morning of July 6. From there he went to Urbana, Sidney, Champagne, Springfield, Decatur and Delevan, Ill., to visit relatives. He returned to his home in Barnard, July 17.

Saturday Visitors in Town.

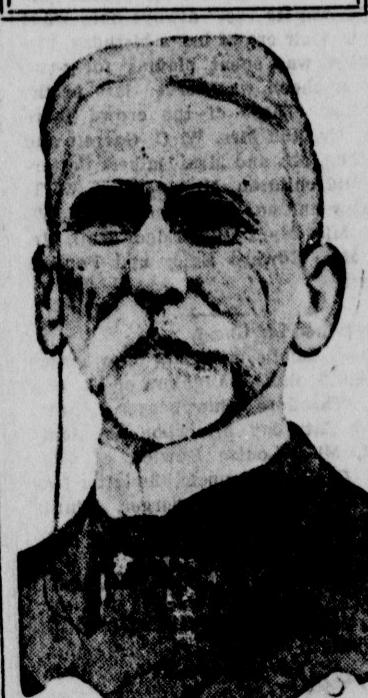

Among the business visitors in town Saturday were Mrs. David McKee and Miss Bessie McKee of near Orrsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Frank VanVelson of near Harmony church, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moore of Myrtle Tree and Mrs. Thomas Duke of Arkoe.

LOOKED FOR MADONNA.

Maryville People Had Out Their Telescopes Sunday Night Investigating Moonlight Phenomenon.

Maryville people were looking at the moon again Sunday night, but not, as "Doc" Braniger, J. A. Ford and others did a few weeks ago, to see whether it was upside down. They looked at it with opera glasses—that is, those who have attended opera and so have glasses did—they looked with ninety-nine cent telescopes, etc., and their purpose was to find the madonna and child. Some of them did and some did not, but she was there just the same.

The Maryville band gave its Sunday afternoon concert before a splendid crowd in Chautauqua park, and although they were at a disadvantage in having to give the program without their leader and director, Mr. T. B. Maulding, who was called to Kansas City by the death of a relative, the members decided that their next best man was Lloyd Miles, and he was drafted to the place of director for the afternoon. The absent director would have been more than proud of then if he had heard how finely everything went off and everybody was pleased, especially the Maryville people, for we had many out-of-town people in Normal park Sunday, and they were not in the least backward about praising our band. When Mr. Miles played his baritone solo, Mr. M. A. Peery acted as director, which shows that the band has the sort of material in it that will be equal to most any emergency.

The program was a little late in beginning, as an extra instrument was needed for an extra man, and a trip was made five miles south to borrow an instrument from Miss Shipps, a member of the Maryville Ladies Military band. The twenty-mile trip was made in twelve minutes. We almost promised that we would not tell that any of the band boys had been speeding, but since the laws in regard to speeding or enforcing the laws about speeding are almost totally disregarded, especially around town at night, knew it would not make any difference whether we told or not.

One thing we noticed was badly needed at the park, especially since these Sunday concerts have commenced, or many things, rather, are seats for the people who attend. Of course, they may sit on the grass, but it is more comfortable on seats. If we want people to come to Maryville, let's have seats for them in the few public shady places there are. And the road through the park should be oiled, too, and it ought by all means to be done before the Chautauqua begins. The dust was fierce Sunday.

Quite a number of out-of-town automobile parties were in attendance at the band concert Sunday afternoon. Among those whose names we learned were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Everhart and daughters; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McMillen and James L. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Robinson and daughter, Mrs. J. E. Alexander, Sr., and Miss Dot Alexander of St. Joseph, Miss Margaret McMillen and Mr. Byron Hanna, all of Pickerington.

From Grant City there were Messrs. Watt Willhite, D. D. Dawson, John C. Dawson and Wheaton Dawson, who were guests while in the city of Mr. Austin Willhite, who is attending the State Normal.

From Hopkins were Mr. and Mrs. Galen Goodson and their guest, Miss Beulah Maurer of Kansas City; Miss Edna Bonewitz and Mr. Cecil Appleton.

Another party comprised Dr. L. R. Wilson of Grant City, Miss Ethel Wells and Miss Esther Wells of Hopkins, Mr. C. J. Wilson of Albany and Miss Golden Wells of Ravenwood, Mr. Clyde Wilson, Miss Anna Wilson and Miss Bliss Chapman of Albany and Miss Vera Wells of Ravenwood.

From Oregon were Mr. Thomas Miller and Miss Mac Wales, who were guests of Mrs. Sarah Wilson and family of South Buchanan street.

From Albany Mr. Lorin Price, the guest of Miss Anna Bainum; Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Price and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Erskine. The gentlemen of this party comprise the Price clothing firm of Albany. With them were Mr. Clair Owings and Miss Alpha Smith of Darlington. Miss Bainum accompanied the Albany party home and will return Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Erskine and Mr. and Mrs. Price were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Peery during the afternoon.

From St. Joseph, Messrs. J. C. Kessler, William Anglebeck, Edward Clayton and Paul Gaston, guests of the Toggery Shop people.

From Hopkins, Messrs. Charles and Albert Psenner, Ernest C. Thull, Curtis Scott and Sherman Scott, guests of Mr. Alfred Sturm, south of Maryville. This party came to the concert after a spin to Bedford and back.

From Albany, Mr. G. E. Wilson and Mr. L. G. Gill.

DROPPED 14 FEET

BIG 60-H. P. MOTOR CAR RAN DOWN THE DITCH.

RANKINS' ARM BROKEN

Washed Out Bridge Cause of Accident Saturday Night in Which E. A. Rankin Was Injured.

The second automobile accident within the week took place three miles south of Barnard at 10 o'clock Saturday night, when the big yellow 60-horsepower Oakland speed car driven by E. A. ("Buzz") Rankin of Tarkio dropped fourteen feet to the bottom of a ditch where a bridge had been washed out. "Buzz" had his arm caught in the steering wheel and broken and received a scalp wound. The fenders of the car were bent. Other than that there was no damage done. Warfield Rankin, who was in the car, was unhurt.

The accident was plainly due to no carelessness in driving. The Rankins were on their way to St. Joseph, and had taken the east road, the Saints Trail. The place where the bridge is out is so situated that it cannot be seen until a person is right on it. It is at the bottom of a hill and only a short distance from a turn in the road. The bridge, a twenty-five or thirty foot one, had been washed out by the storm two weeks ago, and until Saturday night a light had been hung there.

When the car rounded the turn and came over the hill it was in the ditch before its occupants had time to realize their danger. Fortunately the bank does not end abruptly, but slopes gradually to the bottom. The car ran down this slope, resulting in the accident already described. Had there been an abrupt drop, or had the car been going fast enough to make a jump the accident would no doubt have ended fatally.

Warfield Rankin went on to St. Joseph Saturday night and "Buzz" followed him Sunday morning.

MISS HELEN COX DEAD.

Young Woman of Twenty Years Passed Away Sunday—Funeral Tuesday.

Miss Helen Cox of St. Joseph died at 11:30 a.m. Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. M. C. Thompson, one mile north of the Burlington depot here. Miss Cox, who was 20 years old, had been sick for a month before her death with heart trouble and Bright's disease. The body will lie in state from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. The funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Thompson home, and interment will take place in Miami cemetery. Rev. S. D. Harkness will preach the sermon.

The members of the family of the deceased are Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Cox of St. Joseph, Frank Cox of Hopkins; Donald Cox of St. Joseph, Gideon Cox of Fort Casey, Washington; Mrs. H. A. Frawley of Parnell and Mrs. M. C. Thompson of Maryville.

Operated On Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rush and daughter of Bedford, Ia., came to Maryville Saturday evening to St. Francis hospital, where Mrs. Rush was operated on the same evening for appendicitis and is doing nicely. They were accompanied by Mrs. Josephine Matheny and Miss Mine Echlin, also of Bedford.

Off for Colorado.

Mrs. F. M. Martin and Forrest Martin left Monday morning for Boulder, Colo., and other points in that country for a month's outing.

J. H. BRYANT MOVES TO MOBERLY.
The Moberly Democrat of Saturday contained the following notice of John H. Bryant, long a resident of Burlington Junction and founder of the Burlington Junction Post:

Hon. John H. Bryant and family arrive from Burlington Junction this evening and will make their future home in Moberly. The gentleman has been one of the leading citizens of Burlington Junction and will be a welcome addition to the population of the Magic city.

He is well known in this city on account of his prominence in the Odd Fellows. He is a past grand master, having held that exalted office last year.

Mr. Bryant is also the owner and publisher of the Triple Link, the official organ of the Odd Fellows. This publication is one of the best fraternal papers in the country.

Mr. Bryant decided to locate in Moberly to be near his business interests and on account of this city's central and convenient location. Such a prominent and successful gentleman is a very welcome citizen. He is bound to become identified with the best interests of the city and will surely help in the future progress of Moberly.

BLAME RIOTS ON DANIELS

Secretary of Navy Denounced by Seattle Socialists.

SEND MEMORIAL TO WILSON.

Says Party "Never Even Dreamed" of Desecrating United States Banner.
Not Advocates of Violence—Calls It
"Illy-Considered Address."

Seattle, July 21.—Responsibility for the riots in which the headquarters of the Socialists and Industrial Workers of the World were ransacked and the furniture burned in the streets by mobs of civilians led by sailors from the Pacific reserve fleet was placed on Secretary of the Navy Daniels in a memorial to President Wilson adopted by the radical wing of the Socialist party. The headquarters of this branch of the Socialists at Fifth avenue and Virginia street was one of the places wrecked by the mob.

The memorial denounces Secretary
Daniels for his "Illy-considered" speech at the Ranier club, in which he made brief reference to patriotism and denounced the red flag and its supporters.

Never Advocated Violence.

The memorial sets forth that the Socialist party has never advocated violence and has never "advocated, done, attempted or even remotely dreamed of any act of desecration to the flag of the United States or any emblem or insignia thereof."

The memorial then reviews local conditions and alleges that a local newspaper has bent its energies "toward the creation and infarction of a criminal, lawless and intemperate mob to avenge itself upon us, to destroy our liberties, office and book stores and to threaten our very lives."

searching party discovered him in a clump of bushes a mile from the scene
of the explosion, unable to remember what had happened. He was taken to the hospital.

Debris was scattered for several miles and the detonation was felt for a great distance. The men were packcurred. Just what caused it is not known.

NO DELAY BY REPUBLICANS

Do Not Plan Filibustering Tactics Against Tariff Bill.

ATTACKS COMING IN PLENTY.

Tongue of Criticism and Dire Prediction to Be Loosed by Minority Senators—Hope Entertained of Breaking Up Democratic Ranks.

Washington, July 21.—Republican senators have served notice upon their Democratic opponents that there is to be no unnecessary delay of the Underwood Simmons tariff revision bill. While the sharp tongue of Republican criticism and dire prediction is to be loosed throughout the tariff debate, the Republicans do not plan to adopt any general filibustering tactics or to attempt to hold up final action on tariff revision.

Within the next few days a series of vigorous attacks are to be made on the general principles of the Underwood Simmons bill, following out the lines of the speech by Senator Cummins. Senator Burton's address today will be the first of these general speeches by regular Republicans.

To Attack Certain Schedules.

The general denunciations will be followed by concerted attacks on certain schedules, where the Republicans insist that the new measure will mean ruin to American industries. The Democrats will keep up the fire of debate until the senate is ready to take the bill up section by section for amendment.

When that time arrives, it is understood the Republicans will make their final fight for amendment of the bill, hoping they can break up the Democratic ranks, particularly on the sugar and wool schedules.

Noncommittal on Currency.

If their efforts fail, it is the present understanding that the Republicans will not interpose any final opposition to a vote on the bill. Senators Simmons and Kerr and other Democrats who are directing the tariff program are hopeful that the senate can complete the work on the bill late in August. Democratic senators are not now prepared to say that that body will consent to work out the currency problem at the present session.

Lobby Probers Resume Work.

mittee resumed its work with less than one-third of Mulhall's correspondence thus far identified. Chairman Over man will endeavor to push the work of identifying letters this week, but it will be at least a week before the routine examination of Mulhall is concluded.

Officers of the National Association of Manufacturers meantime are waiting with more than 100,000 letters to start their defense against Mulhall's wholesale accusations of lobbying and campaign work on their part. The direct examination of Mulhall on the various charges that he had helped elect and defeat candidates for congress and had engaged generally in influencing legislation and political affairs probably will not start for two weeks.

FIREWORKS PLANT EXPLODES

Factory Goes Up in Blast and Man Blown a Mile.

Winchester, Mass., July 21.—The factory of the New England Fireworks company went up in a puff of smoke the result of an explosion, carrying with it Manager Ernest Borelli and three workmen.

Borelli was thought to have been killed when portions of his clothing his eye-glass case and some coins were found in the vicinity. But a searching party discovered him in a
clump of bushes a mile from the scene
of the explosion, unable to remember what had happened. He was taken to the hospital.

Debris was scattered for several
miles and the detonation was felt for
a great distance. The men were packing rockets when the explosion occurred. Just what caused it is not known.

MRS. PANKHURST FOOLS COPS

Woman Police Arrest as Suffragette
Chief is Another.

London, July 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, has succeeded in outwitting the police. It was thought she had been arrested last night, but it was another woman impersonating Mrs. Pankhurst, whom the police captured in a taxicab and took to Scotland Yard. Then they discovered the mistake and liberated their prisoner.

Many mail boxes in London and the provincial cities were damaged, it is believed by suffragettes.

Bryan Speaks Twice.

Warsaw, Ind., July 21.—Secretary of State Bryan made two addresses to crowds at the Winona chautauqua grounds and announced that his speaking dates for next Thursday, Friday and Saturday had been cancelled to enable him to return to Washington for the conference with Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson and President Wilson upon the Mexican question.

all the leaves will be saved.

Mrs. Moore No Better.

Mrs. W. P. Moore of St. Joseph, a former Maryville woman, remains very ill at her home, from paralysis, and her recovery is not probable.
Visitors are not allowed to see her.
Mrs. Moore's sons, Dr. Ed T. Moore of Checotah, Okla., and George A.
Moore of Amarillo, Texas, are with her, also her daughter, Misses Margaret, Mattie, Kate and Nannie Moore.

Mrs. L. O. Rickard of Pickering returned home Saturday from the Burlington Junction mineral springs, where she has been taking treatment.

TO AILING WOMEN.

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many
a Sufferer in Maryville.

No woman should consider herself healthy and well if the kidneys are weak. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well are retained in the body when the kidneys are disordered. If the kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen worse troubles may quickly follow.
This is often the cause of bearing down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning is also frequent cause of headaches, dizzy spells, languor nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has proven effective in thousands of such cases.
Let a Maryville woman tell of her experience.

Mrs. L. Cain, 709 East Second street, Maryville, Mo., says: "My kidneys bothered me quite awhile and I had backaches and headaches. On a friend's advice I got Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon brought me relief. I can certainly recommend them."

MEDIATION BOARD BEGINS ITS WORK May Consider Roads' Grievances After Those of Men.

New York, July 21.—An agreement to arbitrate first the wage and other demands of the trainmen and conductors against the eastern railroads and then take up the roads' grievances against the men is the probable outcome of conferences being held here today between members of the mediation board created by the Newlands act and representatives and employees of the roads, according to opinion. Judge William L. Chambers and G. W. W. Hanger, the two members of the board already confirmed by the senate, were on hand when the conference began. The business at hand will be to frame a stipulation acceptable to both sides as to questions to be arbitrated.

There are thirty-two senatorial terms which will expire on March 3, 1915. Some of the states affected already have provided a method of popular election of senators, but a great number of them have not, and vacancies caused by death or resignation may call at any time for a popular selection from states which have not yet acted. The Texas legislature has been called to meet in a special session to consider, among other things, the passing of laws for election machinery in accordance with the amendment. The governor of Maryland has decided he is empowered under existing laws to issue a writ of election to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Rayner. Senator Jackson now is serving by designation of the governor.

Such constitutional lawyers of the senate as Senators Root and Sutherland are said to entertain doubt as to the power of the governor to issue the writ, and the appearance of a new senator from Maryland to take the oath of office will mark the initial fight in the senate over senatorial election machinery.

PEACE NEARER IN BALKANS

Bulgaria Offers Rumania Territorial Concessions.

London, July 21.—The advent of a new Bulgarian cabinet, comprising a coalition of the liberal groups, seems to have brought a prospect that peace negotiations soon will be entered into. After vain attempts to negotiate separately with Rumania, the Bulgarian government accepted the advice of Austria and Russia and offered Rumania an important territorial concession. Bulgaria also sent delegates to meet the Servian and Greek and, presumably Rumanian, representatives at Nish to negotiate an armistice and peace.

Bankers Sued for Fifteen Millions.

San Francisco, July 21.—Suit to recover $15,200,000, including $520,000 damages sustained by the depositors of the California Safe Deposit and Trust company, was filed in the superior court against Walter J. Barnett, H. P. Wilson, W. C. Peyton and Oscar Cooper by Charles B. O'Connell and others on behalf of 13,500 depositors of the defunct institution.

Making Farm Lands More Valuable.

Harry B. Potter of the staff of Farm and Fireside, writes an article in the current issue of that publication entitled, "Making Farm Lands More Valuable." He shows that where alfalfa is grown soil becomes richer. Following is an interesting extract from Mr. Potter's article:

"Alfalfa will pay 6 per cent interest on $1,000 an acre land; it is equal to wheat bran as stock feed; one acre of alfalfa is equal to six acres of timothy; where corn will net $15.80 per acre, alfalfa will net $50 per acre. Every farmer should grow some alfalfa."

That is the statement of A. P. Grout, for twenty years a grower of this crop, now president of the Illinois Alfalfa Growers' association. It is the conservative opinion of one who has made a success of farming and gives credit to alfalfa for much of that success. Mr. Grout is but one of many who now realize that alfalfa is a roughage without a known superior, and that if it can be successfully grown the farm and the farmer will become richer.

"Alfalfa is waiting for an invitation to every farm in the United States. Joseph E. Wing, the alfalfa enthusiast of Ohio, says: 'I do not hesitate to affirm that alfalfa can be grown successfully on any farm in the United States.' This is the final word, for Mr. Wing has seen the farm lands of all of the states, and he has known farm conditions from having met them himself."

"Speaking of the weather," suggests Col. Omar D. Gray, "we are constrained to recall the remark of a pious old sister in Howard county who is said to have observed, many years ago: 'This is the wettest and driest, the coldest and hottest and altogether the harshest country in the world.' But no body believes the venerable dame really meant it. She was a bit 'peev'd' that day."

Gelvin Got Him Beat.

The Stanberry Owl Headlight makes the claim that Thomas Ficklin of that place easily holds the title of blue grass king of the world, from the fact that he gathered 10,000 bushels of seed this year. We do not question the sincerity of the Headlight in the matter, but they are evidently not acquainted over this way. D. A. Gelvin has gathered that much seed each season for three or four years, and all from his own land. This year he had about 200 acres of grass which he did not strip, or the amount of seed would have been much more than 10,000. Maitland Herald.

H. P. CHILDRESS SOUNDED LAST BUGLE CALL IN WAR.

LOST PAPER IN CYCLONE

Guarded Parole Blown Away by Freak of Wind Which Demolished Childress Home.

Sunday's Kansas City Star contained the following story of Nathaniel Sisson and H. P. Childress, the two Maryville men who blew the last bugle calls of the civil war:

The two buglers, whose shrill notes marked the close of the civil war—one for the Union forces and the other for the confederates—live in Maryville and for years have been good friends, with many a "fighting-them-over" chat.

The bugle that sounded that last charge for the Union forces at Appomattox hangs in the office of Nathaniel Sisson, the man who sounded it to signal that last charge of Custer's division, the charge that was to be stopped suddenly by the appearance of the flag of truce—a soiled towel, this famed flag of truce was; a soiled towel atop a hickory pole.

The bugle that gave forth the notes that marked the close of hostilities for the other side was cast aside by H. P. Childress, the man who for four years had blown it, and in a dozen bloody battles, through the retreat from Gettysburg and on to Richmond, Five Forks and Appomattox, as being a good riddance.

For when that last call was sounded Mr. Childress, who had shared with his comrades for two years the belief that the next battle would be the last decided that his work was done and "lit right out" for home, not even waiting for his parole. Nor did he stop until he got back to Lynchburg.

Strange to relate, Mr. Childress' call was not sounded for nearly two hours after the surrender of Lee to Grant, and in the meantime his command, Lomax's cavalry, under the command of General Penn, had been skirmishing away with the federals out several miles from Appomattox court house, in blissful ignorance that the war was over.

Their first intimation of the surrender came when a Union officer rode out with a white flag and advanced to General Penn with the news. Mr. Childress was standing near by and heard the officer say: "General Lee has surrendered to General Grant and you are ordered to hold your lines in their present positions." Then General Penn ordered Bugler Childress to ride along the skirmish lines with orders to the colonels to cease firing, and, when he returned, he was ordered to blow "assembly," which was the call for the skirmishers to fall back to their regiments.

This done, Mr. Childress wheeled his horse and started back to find the pike to Lynchburg. He had been a soldier for four long years and was weary with war. He had sounded bugle calls at second Bull Run, Winchester, Front Royal, Clear Creek, Fisher's Hill, Mount Jackson, Fort Republic, Harper's Ferry, Gettysburg, Brandy Station, Mine Run, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Wilderness, Spotsylvania Court House, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, Richmond, Five Forks and this last assembly at Appomattox. And during all these four years he never had fired a shot.

So young Childress went home, disregarding the terms of war and other technicalities. On his solitary journey he ran into General Rosser's command. "Hasn't General Rosser surrendered?" he inquired. "Hell, no!" was the answer, "and doesn't intend to."

It was several weeks after that Mr. Childress, now a civilian and busy with civilian pursuits, heard that he ought to go down to Fredericksburg and get his parole. He went in company with number of neighbor boys and procured the paper which he guarded jealously for years and which finally was blown away in a cyclone that demolished the Childress home, near Maryville, in 1883.

It was different with Mr. Sisson, but perhaps that is natural, considering who won. He stayed it out and marched with Custer down Pennsylvania avenue in Washington City in the grand review.

Mr. Sisson was the brigade bugler in Custer's division and gave the signal for the charge, the regimental buglers catching it up and passing it on. Across the field charged the Union cavalry, with General Custer at the head. And while all this was going on the flag of truce fluttered from the confederate lines.

Aides spurred their horses forward and overtook the fiery Custer to tell him of the truce. He ordered a halt and proceeded to General Gordon's headquarters. While he was there a confederate squad dashed out and opened fire. The Union soldiers thought that maybe Custer had been decoyed into the hands of the enemy and that the charge had been ordered as soon as he was safely trapped. But General Gordon soon stopped the firing, sending his orders by a Union officer after he had looked in vain for one of his own aids.

Custer rode back alone from Gordon's tent, and, uncovering his head, told General Capehart that Lee was treating with Grant for surrender. The soldiers nearby heard the remark and set up a cheering that went down the whole line. They knew that the war was over.

AUTO CAUSES RUNAWAY.

Walter Jones, who began work last week on the Robert Sawyers farm, and Page Fite were thrown from a buggy and hurt about 10 o'clock Saturday night when the colt they were driving became frightened at an automobile and ran away. The accident occurred a mile or a mile and a half northwest of town. Mr. Fite was taking Mr. Jones back to the farm, when an unknown car shot suddenly around the corner and frightened the horse. Mr. Fite was thrown out of the buggy, and sustained a sprained ankle. Mr. Jones grabbed for the lines and tried to stop the horse, but was thrown out a little further on. His left leg was severely cut to the bone.

A Record Harvest Day.

What he believes to be a record day's work of threshing was done Saturday on the farm of J. F. Gray, one and one-half miles west of Pickering. John Whitten, with his new machine and hands, threshed 1,231½ bushels of wheat out of the shock. They had threshed 85 bushels the evening before, making a total of 1,316½ bushels. This was an average of 35 bushels per acre.

Emmett Gray, who also lives near Pickering, threshed his sixty acres of wheat last week. It yielded 30 bushels per acre.

Will Follow the Fairs.

Albert Butcherus, Joe Switzer and Harry (Snaky) Palmer left this morning for Chillicothe, where they will put on an "African dip" and wheel of fortune at the fair. "Snaky" will be it in the African dip, and take his plunges daily to amuse the three-for-a-nickel artists.

Mark Turner already has his menagerie at Chillicothe, and these two troops will spend the rest of the summer and early fall following the fairs in this end of the state.

Elmo War Veteran Buried.

The funeral of Francis Marion Bowman, a confederate veteran, who died here Friday, was held Sunday. He enlisted in Company B, Missouri volunteers, in 1863. He lost a leg in the battle of Champion Hills and was left on the field and captured by the Union army.

Surviving him are a widow, three sons, Francis E., Marion W. and Charles E. Bowman, and two daughters, Mrs. Emily Castello and Mrs. Elsie Abbott. All live near Elmo.

Dow Cook Out of Bed.

Professor and Mrs. T. H. Cook received word Sunday that their son, Dow Cook, who is in Chicago being treated by Dr. Murphy, the specialist, was able to get out of his bed Friday and is making very satisfactory improvement. Dr. Murphy left Thursday on a vacation trip of a month of Europe, and as he left no orders for Dow other than those for those in care of him, the doctor expects him to remain until he returns.

On Northern Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mutz will leave Thursday for a trip to Minnesota and other northern points. They will be joined at Omaha by Mr. and Mrs. William Minford of Elmwood, Neb., and will go to Duluth to visit Mrs. Ted Cordiner, and on their return will visit at Pender, Neb., with S. S. Hall.

C. H. EATON SAYS GETTYSBURG VETERANS WERE CARED FOR.

Barnard Man Enjoyed Himself and Says Others Have Themselves to Blame if They Did Not.

C. H. Eaton of Barnard was in Maryville today for the express purpose of correcting what he thinks to be an erroneous impression on the part of the people here as to the Gettysburg reunion. He said that he understood that reports had been given here that the veterans were not well sheltered or fed while at Gettysburg, and that conditions there were unhealthful.

"Any one who did not have a good time there has only himself to blame," he said. "There were enough things to see to keep a man busy a month. It was hot only two days, but even then there was plenty of shade. On Seminary Ridge there were band concerts every day, and I spent several afternoons there in the shade and breeze.

"As for food, we had everything a person could want—beef cooked in all possible ways, chicken, fish, vegetables and fruit. Of course, we had to stand in line to get it, but after that we could take our plate anywhere we chose. I gained flesh while there."

Mr. Eaton said that Big and Little Round Top were the only parts of the ground which looked natural. Everywhere else trees have been planted, monuments erected and drives built. The two Round Tops, however, looked the same as they did when he was stationed behind them for two days with the ammunition train.

"I did not meet anyone I knew," said Mr. Eaton. "One man said he had fought in the same company with me, but I did not remember him. In the same tent with me were four Confederates and two other federals. We spent our time swapping stories, reading and walking over the grounds."

Mr. Eaton did not leave Gettysburg until the last train pulled out on the morning of July 6. From there he went to Urbana, Sidney, Champagne, Springfield, Decatur and Delevan, Ill., to visit relatives. He returned to his home in Barnard, July 17.

Saturday Visitors in Town.

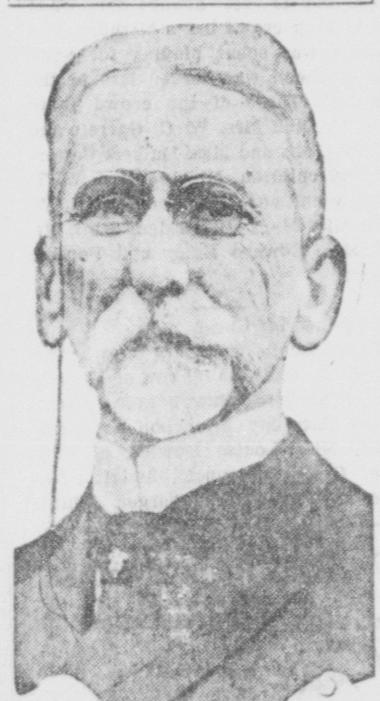

Among the business visitors in town Saturday were Mrs. David McKee and Miss Bessie McKee of near Orrsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Frank VanVelson of near Harmony church, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moore of Myrtle Tree and Mrs. Thomas Duke of Arkoe.

SUNDAY CONCERTS BRINGING AUTO PARTIES TO MARYVILLE.

ARE PROVING POPULAR

The Great Reputation of the Band for Giving Good Music Proves Drawing Card for Concerts.

The Maryville band gave its Sunday afternoon concert before a splendid crowd in Chautauqua park, and although they were at a disadvantage in having to give the program without their leader and director, Mr. T. B. Maulding, who was called to Kansas City by the death of a relative, the members decided that their next best man was Lloyd Miles, and he was drafted to the place of director for the afternoon. The absent director would have been more proud of them if he had heard how finely everything went off and everybody was pleased, especially the Maryville people, for we had many out-of-town people in Normal park Sunday, and they were not in the least backward about praising our band. When Mr. Miles played his baritone solo, Mr. M. A. Peery acted as director, which shows that the band has the sort of material it that will be equal to most any emergency.

The program was a little late in beginning, as an extra instrument was needed for an extra man, and a trip was made five miles south to borrow an instrument from Miss Shipp, a member of the Maryville Ladies Military band. The twenty-mile trip was made in twelve minutes. We almost promised that we would not tell that any of the band boys had been speeding, but since the laws in regard to speeding or enforcing the laws about speeding are almost totally disregarded, especially around town at night, we knew it would not make any difference whether we told or not.

One thing we noticed was badly needed at the park, especially since these Sunday concerts have commenced, or many things, rather, are seats for the people who attend. Of course, they may sit on the grass, but it is more comfortable on seats. If we want people to come to Maryville, let's have seats for them in the few public shady places there are. And the road through the park should be oiled, too, and it ought by all means to be done before the Chautauqua begins. The dust was fierce Sunday.

Quite a number of out-of-town automobile parties were in attendance at the band concert Sunday afternoon. Among those whose names we learned were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Everhart and daughters; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McMillen, James L. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Robinson and daughter, Mrs. J. E. Alexander, Sr., and Miss Dot Alexander of St. Joseph, Miss Margaret McMillen and Mr. Byron Hanna, all of Pickering.

From Grant City there were Messrs. Watt Willhite, D. D. Dawson, John C. Dawson and Wheaton Dawson, who were guests while in the city of Mr. Austin Willhite, who is attending the State Normal.

From Hopkins were Mr. and Mrs. Galen Goodson and their guest, Miss Beulah Maurer of Kansas City; Miss Edna Bonowitz and Mr. Cecil Appleton.

Another party comprised Dr. L. R. Wilson of Grant City, Miss Ethel Wells and Miss Esther Wells of Hopkins, Mr. C. J. Wilson of Albany and Miss Golden Wells of Ravenwood, Mr. Clyde Wilson, Miss Anna Wilson and Miss Bliss Chapman of Albany and Miss Vera Wells of Ravenwood.

From Oregon were Mr. and Mrs. Galen Goodson and their guest, Miss Beulah Maurer of Kansas City; Miss Edna Bonowitz and Mr. Cecil Appleton.

LOOKED FOR MADONNA.

Maryville People Had Out Their Telescopes Sunday Night Investigating

Moonlight Phenomenon.

Maryville people were looking at the moon again Sunday night, but not, as "Doc" Brangler, J. A. Ford and others did a few weeks ago, to see whether it was upside down. They looked at it with opera glasses—that is, those who have attended opera and so have glasses did—they looked with ninety-nine cent telescopes, etc., and their purpose was to find the madonna and child. Some of them did and some did not, but she was there just the same.

The image was that of the Sistine Madonna. This image first appeared Friday night, July 18, and was visible for three nights. According to astronomers it is a rare phenomenon which occurs but once every fifty years. Col. F. H. Buzzacott of Chicago, a member of the American Astronomical society, said of it:

"The phenomenon now visible has never been explained by astronomy. It was first discovered by a member of the British Royal Astronomical Society, and since that time has seen only twice.

PRESBYTERIANS DEFEATED.

Christians Pull Opponents From Second Place to Cellar.

The Christians were unmerciful in their scoring on the Presbyterians in Saturday's game at the Normal park. The final score was 12 to 0. This game pulled the Presbyterians from a tie with the Buchanan Street Methodists, and Harmony from second place to the cellar. The Presbyterians, Christians and Baptists are each holding to a percentage of 42%.

The next games will be played Saturday, July 26, between the First Methodists and Christians, and the Buchanan Street Methodists and Presbyterians.

Visited His Boy Friends.

Verlin Taylor and Dow Kaley of Red Cloud, Neb., visited in Maryville Saturday and Sunday with Mr. Taylor's friends of his small boyhood days in Maryville. They spent Sunday afternoon with G. B. Holmes, Jr., and left in the evening for Graham, where they are guests of Mr. Charles Taylor and family. Verlin Taylor is a son of the late Mrs. Belle Taylor, whose death occurred about a year ago in Red Cloud. She lived in Maryville, on South Walnut street, with her children for several years after the death of her husband. Edward Taylor, the eldest son is now superintendent of the schools at Leadville, Colo. The youngest daughter, Miss Dossie, finished her first year in the state university at Boulder, Colo., in June, and Verlin, who has just graduated from the high school at Red Cloud, expects to enter the same university the coming fall.

Iowa Visitors Leave.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Steinkamp and Miss Macelle Steinkamp of Tingley, Iowa, who have been visiting Mrs. Rebecca Parrish, south of Maryville, and Mrs. Crandall of Maryville, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Glass and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Swinford, left for their home Monday. The visitors will soon take up their residence at Warrensburg, Mo.

J. H. Bryant Moves to Moberly.
The Moberly Democrat of Saturday contained the following notice of John H. Bryant, long a resident of Burlington Junction and founder of the Burlington Junction Post:

Hon. John H. Bryant and family arrive from Burlington Junction this evening and will make their future home in Moberly. The gentleman has been one of the leading citizens of Burlington Junction and will be a welcome addition to the population of the Magic city.

He is well known in this city on account of his prominence in the Odd Fellows. He is a past grand master, having held that exalted office last year.

Mr. Bryant is also the owner and publisher of the Triple Link, the official organ of the Odd Fellows. This publication is one of the best fraternal papers in the country.

Mr. Bryant decided to locate in Moberly to be near his business interests and on account of this city's central and convenient location. Such a prominent and successful gentleman is a very welcome citizen. He is bound to become identified with the best interests of the city and will surely help in the future progress of Moberly.

First Conversations at Skidmore. Three excellent sermons were preached Sunday to a large crowd at the Skidmore camp meeting. It is estimated that between 1,000 and 1,100 persons were at each of the three services. H. C. Hankin, the evangelist, delivered in the morning a sermon on "Doing Good," and at the evening service he preached on "Playing the Fool." His brother, Rev. W. C. Hankin, a returned missionary from China, gave the afternoon sermon on "The Devil in China." The first call to the unsaved was made Saturday night, and there were four conversions.

A special union Sunday school service will be held next Sunday morning at the camp grounds, in which all the schools of the town and community will participate. D. R. Baker, editor of the New Era, has been selected to superintend the meeting.

Auto Ran Into Buggy.

Jim Andy Ford ran his car into the buggy of Lincoln Bent Sunday afternoon, breaking one of the lamps on the car and the reach of the buggy.

The accident was unusual in that there were only three vehicles in the block. The Reuillard car was standing next to the curbing in front of the restaurant, and Mr. Bent had stopped his buggy a little behind and to the outside of the car. Mr. Ford came around the corner from the east and was driving his car down the middle of the street, when he lost control of it. The car turned in toward the curbing and ran into the rear of the buggy before it could be stopped.

Visitors From Villisca.

Martin Borrusch, Sr., Frank Borrusch, Miss Edna Borrusch and Harry Borrusch of Villisca, Ia., visited Maryville from Friday until Sunday afternoon with the families of Martin H. Borrusch, Jr., and John Borrusch.

They made the trip in their car and were accompanied home by Virgil Borrusch, who will visit them a few weeks.

Called by Niece's Illness.

Mrs. Will A. Burris of near Graham left Saturday evening for Macon City, where she was called by the serious illness of Mrs. H. B. Clarkson, formerly Miss Ethleen Shaaf of Maryville.

Visiting His Parents.

Earl Campbell, with the John S. Brittain wholesale dry goods company of St. Joseph, arrived in Maryville Friday night for a ten day's vacation visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Campbell.

Off For an Outing.

J. T. Hays and Mrs. Z. R. Alexander went to Mr. Hays' farm, four miles west of Skidmore, Monday, to spend a week there with Mr. Milton R. Hays and family, and put up blackberries on the side.

Just Back From Hot Springs.

Mrs. W. H. Miller of Burlington Junction arrived in Maryville Monday on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. M. A. Turner. Mrs. Miller has just returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Fry of Hot Springs, Ark.

Miss Laura Barmann went to Kansas City Monday morning to visit Miss Louise and Marie Curtin. Miss Ora Barmann accompanied her as far as St. Joseph and will spend a few days there with Miss Genevieve Willman.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore and daughter went to St. Joseph Saturday evening.

Guests for Sunday.

Mrs. W. G. Sayler of Burlington Junction and her guest, Mrs. George E. Dew of Toledo, Wash., arrived Saturday to spend a few days at the home of Judge and Mrs. J. H. Sayler.

To Lake Okoboji.

Miss Mary Q. Evans will leave Tuesday for Lake Okoboji, Ia., to join a party of friends from Des Moines and Indianola, Ia., for a week's camp by the lake.

Dinner Party at Bolckow.

Miss Helen Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Dunn of Bolckow, invited Maryville friends to be her guests at dinner Sunday complimentary to her cousin, Miss Dorothy Dunn of Chicago. The company included the Misses Dunn, Miss Ella Walton Frank, Elmore Frank, Dale Bellows and Andy Chris Cummins of Maryville.

Sunday Dinner Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Anderson and their guest, Walter David of Kansas City, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Holmes. Mr. David completed the course of the law school of Columbia university, New York City, in June, and has concluded to locate in Kansas City for the practice of his profession.

Ate Supper at the River.

Miss Elizabeth Turner was the chaperon of a quiet supper party at the river Sunday evening, comprising Miss May Corwin, Miss Donna Sisson, Miss Helen Leffler, Miss Dora Carpenter, Miss Lulu Todd, Miss Mabel Todd, Messrs. Forrest Hanna, L. M. Eck, Edward Schumacher, George Herren and Shepherd Leffler.

Mutz Family Reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mutz gave a supper at their home Saturday evening in honor of their daughter, Mrs. J. F. Chambers and Mr. Chambers of Dallas, Texas, who left Sunday night for their home. The guests included the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Mutz, all of whom live in and near Maryville, excepting Mrs. Chambers.

Guests From Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Hopper entertained a company of old friends from New Market, Ia., at dinner and supper Sunday, also Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hopper and Garth Hopper of Elmo. The Iowa visitors were Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Ritchen and Harold Ritchen, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Tomlinson, Mrs. Mary Gardner, Misses Lura and Ruth Gardner and Miss Daisy McClure. The trip to Maryville was made in automobiles. Mrs. Gardner is the postmistress at New Market and Mr. Tomlinson is a banker there, and both had at one time been Sabbath school pupils of Mrs. Hopper.

Ladies' Aid Social Meeting.

Mrs. N. F. Humber entertained the Ladies' Aid society of the Buchanan Street Methodist church with an informal kensington and luncheon Friday afternoon, at her home, on South Main street, and was assisted by Mrs. F. J. Yeomans. Summer vacation trips and sickness were found quite a hindrance to the attendance on this social meeting of the society, but did not detract from the enjoyment of those present, who were Mrs. C. W. Thorp, Mrs. J. H. Thorp, Mrs. John Rickman, Mrs. M. A. Peery, Miss Compton of Pattonsburg, Mrs. E. W. Willoughby, Mrs. Lydia Wilkinson, Mrs. Alva Maul, Mrs. J. C. Farrar, Mrs. Floyd Brown, Mrs. Del Thompson, Mrs. F. J. Yeomans.

For Daughter's Birthday.

Mrs. J. Wesley Shroyer gave a dinner Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in honor of the birthday anniversary of her daughter, Mrs. M. Emmett Lane of Kingman, Kan., who is visiting at her mother's home, the guest of her daughter, Miss Belle Lane, a State Normal student. Twelve of the invited guests were old schoolmates of the honor guest, and it was the first time all had visited together in thirty years. They were Mrs. Byron E. Condon, Mrs. O. C. Hanna, Mrs. Gallatin Craig, Mrs. O. L. Holmes, Mrs. W. R. Smiley, Mrs. L. L. Holbrook, Mrs. Mary Hook, Mrs. Horace Smith, Mrs. J. B. Cox, Mrs. John W. Herren. The other guests were Mrs. J. C. Allender, Mrs. Irvin Bartram, Mrs. Floyd Miller, Miss Anna Bartram and Miss Belle Lane.

BLAME RIOTS ON DANIELS

Secretary of Navy Denounced by Seattle Socialists.

SEND MEMORIAL TO WILSON

Says Party "Never Even Dreamed" of Desecrating United States Banner. Not Advocates of Violence—Calls It "Illy-Considered Address."

Seattle, July 21.—Responsibility for the riots in which the headquarters of the Socialists and Industrial Workers of the World were ransacked and the furniture burned in the streets by mobs of civilians led sailors from the Pacific reserve fleet was placed on Secretary of the Navy Daniels in a memorial to President Wilson adopted by the radical wing of the Socialist party. The headquarters of this branch of the Socialists at Fifth avenue and Virginia street was one of the places wrecked by the mob.

The memorial denounces Secretary Daniels for his "illy-considered speech at the Ranier club, in which he made brief reference to patriotism and denounced the red flag and its supporters.

Never Advocated Violence.

The memorial sets forth that the Socialist party has never advocated violence and has never "advocated, done, attempted or even remotely dreamed of any act of desecration to the flag of the United States or any emblem or insignia thereof."

The memorial then reviews local conditions and alleges that a local newspaper has bent its energies toward the creation and infatuation of a criminal, lawless and intemperate mob to avenge itself upon us, to destroy our liberties, office and book stores and to threaten our very lives."

Find Mother's Body Hanging in Barn.

Sioux Falls, S. D., July 21.—Despondent because of ill health and distract ed by the fear that she was losing her mind, Mrs. Carter Collins, wife of a Moody county farmer, hanged herself in the barn. NO DELAY BY REPUBLICANS

Do Not Plan Filibustering Tactics Against Tariff Bill.

ATTACKS COMING IN PLENTY.

Tongue of Criticism and Dire Prediction to Be Loosed by Minority Senators—Hope Entertained of Breaking Up Democratic Ranks.

Washington, July 21.—Republican senators have served notice upon their Democratic opponents that there is to be no unnecessary delay of the Underwood-Simmons tariff revision bill. While the sharp tongue of Republican criticism and dire prediction is to be loosed throughout the tariff debate, the Republicans do not plan to adopt any general filibustering tactics or to attempt to hold up final action on tariff revision.

Within the next few days a series of vigorous attacks are to be made on the general principles of the Underwood-Simmons bill, following out the lines of the speech by Senator Cummins. Senator Burton's address today will be the first of these general speeches by regular Republicans.

To Attack Certain Schedules.

The general denunciations will be followed by concerted attacks on certain schedules, where the Republicans insist that the new measure will mean ruin to American industries. The Democrats will keep up the fire of debate until the senate is ready to take the bill up section by section for amendment.

When that time arrives, it is understood the Republicans will make their final fight for amendment of the bill, hoping they can break up the Democratic ranks, particularly on the sugar and wool schedules.

Noncommittal on Currency.

If their efforts fail, it is the present understanding that the Republicans will not interpose any final opposition to a vote on the bill. Senators Simons and Kern and other Democrats who are directing the tariff program are hopeful that the senate can complete the work on the bill late in August. Democratic senators are not now prepared to say that that body will consent to work out the currency problem at the present session.

Lobby Probers Resume Work.

Committee resumed its work with less than one-third of Mulhall's correspondence thus far identified. Chairman Overman will endeavor to push the work of identifying letters this week, but it will be at least a week before the routine examination of Mulhall is concluded.

Officers of the National Association of Manufacturers meantime are waiting with more than 100,000 letters to start their defense against Mulhall's wholesale accusations of lobbying and campaign work on their part. The direct examination of Mulhall on the various charges that he had helped elect and defeat candidates for congress and had engaged generally in influencing legislation and political affairs probably will not start for two weeks.

FIREWORKS PLANT EXPLODES

Factory Goes Up in Blast and Man Blown a Mile.

Winchester, Mass., July 21.—The factory of the New England Fireworks company went up in a puff of smoke with the result of an explosion, carrying with it Manager Ernest Borelli and three workmen.

Borelli was thought to have been killed when portions of his clothing and eye-glass case and some coins were found in the vicinity. But a searching party discovered him in a clump of bushes a mile from the scene of the explosion, unable to remember what had happened. He was taken to the hospital.

Debris was scattered for several miles and the detonation was felt for a great distance. The men were packing rockets when the explosion occurred. Just what caused it is not known.

MRS. PANKHURST FOOLS COPS

Woman Police Arrest as Suffragette Chief Is Another.

London, July 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, has succeeded in outwitting the police. It was thought she had been arrested last night, but it was another woman, impersonating Mrs. Pankhurst, whom the police captured in a taxicab and took to Scotland Yard. Then they discovered the mistake and liberated their prisoner.

Many mail boxes in London and the provincial cities were damaged, it is believed by suffragettes.

Bryan Speaks Twice.

Of the entire alfalfa plant, the stalk comprises 60 per cent, and the leaf 40 per cent, whereas, the quality of the protein in the stalk is only 40 per cent, while the protein in the leaf is 60 per cent. Moreover only 20 per cent of the fat is to be found in the stalk, while 80 per cent is in the leaf. It is, therefore, very important that the alfalfa be harvested at the proper time, and carefully handled so that all the leaves will be saved.

Mrs. Moore No Better.

Mrs. W. P. Moore of St. Joseph, a former Maryville woman, remains very ill at her home, from paralysis, and her recovery is not probable. Visitors are not allowed to see her. Mrs. Moore's sons, Dr. Ed T. Moore of Checotah, Okla., and George A. Moore of Amarillo, Texas, are with her, also her daughter, Misses Margaret, Mattie, Kate and Nannie Moore.

Mrs. L. O. Rickard of Pickering returned home Saturday from the Burlington Junction mineral springs, where she has been taking treatment.

TO AILING WOMEN.

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Maryville.

No woman should consider herself healthy and well if the kidneys are weak. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well are retained in the body when the kidneys are disordered. If the kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen worse troubles may quickly follow. This is often the cause of bearing down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning is also frequent cause of headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has proven effective in thousands of such cases. Let a Maryville woman tell of her experience.

Mrs. L. Cain, 709 East Second street, Maryville, Mo., says: "My kidneys bothered me quite awhile and I had backaches and headaches. On a friend's advice I got Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon brought me relief. I can certainly recommend them."

MEDIATION BOARD BEGINS ITS WORK

May Consider Roads' Grievances After Those of Men.

New York, July 21.—An agreement to arbitrate first the wage and other demands of the trainmen and conductors against the eastern railroads and then take up the roads' grievances against the men is the probable outcome of conferences being held here today between members of the mediation board created by the Newlands act and representatives and employees of the roads, according to opinion.

Judge William L. Chambers and G. W. Hanger, the two members of the board already confirmed by the senate, were on hand when the conference began. The business at hand will be to frame a stipulation acceptable to both sides as to questions to be arbitrated.

WATCHES COUNTRY GAME

President Witnesses Diamond Contest at Little Burg in Brush.

Washington, July 21.—President Wilson experienced the excitement of a country baseball game and thoroughly enjoyed it. He happened along in his automobile at La Plata, Md., about thirty-five miles south of Washington, when he heard a series of wild shouts from a frantic crowd of enthusiasts "rooting" with all the intensity of a major league struggle for the rival teams.

The president wore a large pair of goggles and thought he could watch the game without being recognized. As he cautiously approached the grounds, however, the feminine enthusiasts of La Plata almost immediately discovered his identity.

"It's the president!" they chorused as they swooped down on him.

The players paused and the crowd gave three hearty cheers. The president inquired about the progress of the game and found that the La Plata team was in bitter combat with the Indian Head team at a tie score. The president watched the contest for half an hour, but did not wait for the finish.

HOPE FOR PCO JAP GONE

Too Late to File Referendum Petition Against Alien Law.

San Francisco, July 21.—The advent of a new Bulgarian cabinet, comprising a coalition of the liberal groups, seems to have brought a prospect that peace negotiations soon will be entered into. After vain attempts to negotiate separately with Rumania, the Bulgarian government accepted the advice of Austria and Russia and offered Rumania an important territorial concession. Bulgaria also sent delegates to meet the Servian and Greek and, presumably Rumanian, representatives at Nish to negotiate an armistice and peace.

Making Farm Lands More Valuable.

Harry B. Potter of the staff of Farm and Fireside, writes an article in the current issue of that publication entitled, "Making Farm Lands More Valuable." He shows that where alfalfa is grown soil becomes richer. Following is an interesting extract from Mr. Potter's article:

"Alfalfa will pay 6 per cent interest on $1,000 an acre land; it is equal to wheat bran as stock feed; one acre of alfalfa is equal to six acres of timothy; where corn will net $15.80 per acre, alfalfa will net $50 per acre. Every farmer should grow some alfalfa."

"That is the statement of A. P. Grout, for twenty years a grower of this crop, now president of the Illinois Alfalfa Growers' association. It is the conservative opinion of one who has made a success of farming and gives credit to alfalfa for much of that success. Mr. Grout is but one of many who now realize that alfalfa is a roughage without a known superior, and that if it can be successfully grown the farm and the farmer will become richer."

"Alfalfa is waiting for an invitation to every farm in the United States. Joseph E. Wing, the alfalfa enthusiast of Ohio, says: 'I do not hesitate to affirm that alfalfa can be grown successfully on any farm in the United States.' This is the final word, for Mr. Wing has seen the farm lands of all of the states, and he has known farm conditions from having met them himself."

"Speaking of the weather," suggests Col. Omar D. Gray, "we are constrained to recall the remark of a pious old sister in Howard county who is said to have observed, many years ago: 'This is the wettest and driest, the coldest and hottest and altogether the heldestest country in the world.' But no body believes the venerable dame really meant it. She was a bit 'peev'd' that day."

Gelvin Got Him Beat.

The Stanberry Owl Headlight makes the claim that Thomas Ficklin of that Maryville this morning to remain all place easily holds the title of blue grass king of the world, from the fact that he gathered 10,000 bushels of seed this year. We do not question the sincerity of the Headlight in the matter, but they are evidently not acquainted over this way. D. A. Gelvin has gathered that much seed each season for three or four years, and all from his own land. This year he had about 200 acres of grass which he did not strip, or the amount of seed would have been much more than 10,000. Mifflin Herald.
